

Embodied AI in Asia — A Deal-by-Deal Funding Review

January 2024 – May 2026 · Transaction-level detail · China / Japan / Korea / Southeast Asia / India

What this report is: A deal-by-deal review of the major financing and capital-markets events in Asia's embodied-AI / humanoid-robotics industry over the past two years (Jan 2024 – May 2026). It is a companion to the Embodied AI Industry Landscape Report. If you are new to the industry, read that one first; Section 1 below also gives a one-minute primer on "what this industry is."

Date: 30 May 2026 | Language: This is the English edition; a full Chinese edition exists (亚洲具身智能融资交易盘点_CN.md).

Sources: Private-market funding cross-checked from public reporting (Caixin, 36Kr, Securities Times/STCN, QbitAI, PEdaily, PRNewswire, TechCrunch, The Robot Report, CNBC, Nikkei, KED Global, DealStreetAsia, etc.); listed-company market caps / financials from Financial Modeling Prep (FMP), as of 29–30 May 2026.

Important notice: Chinese private-market amounts are often vague ("nearly RMB X00 million / several hundred million"), and valuations are typically media-cited and unaudited. This report strictly separates 【Confirmed】 from 【Rumored / Unconfirmed / Conflicting】 and lists contradictory figures side by side. This is not investment advice. Verify key numbers against company filings / HKEX / ITjuzi / PitchBook.

1. One-minute primer: what is this industry

- Embodied AI = giving AI a body that can perceive and physically act. The flagship product is the humanoid robot (a human-shaped machine that can walk and grasp). Unlike "talking-only AI" such as ChatGPT, it has to do real physical work in factories, warehouses and homes.
- The value chain has four layers: ① upstream components (reducers, motors, screws, sensors, dexterous hands, chips — the robot's "bones, muscles, nerves, hands and brain-hardware"); ② mid-stream body/OEM makers (who assemble components into a complete robot, like a car OEM); ③ downstream applications (auto plants → logistics → services → homes); ④ a software layer spanning the whole chain (VLA foundation models, simulation, data — the robot's "soul").
- Why capital is flooding in during 2024–2026: foundation models finally gave robots a general-purpose "brain"; China's EV supply chain is driving hardware costs down fast; and Tesla's Optimus, via Musk's gravitational pull, lit up the whole sector. The past two years are the most funding-dense period in the industry's history.

Frequent terms: body = the robot's hardware platform; full-stack = building both the body and the in-house brain; VLA = Vision-Language-Action model (the robot's general brain); CVC = corporate venture capital; lead investor = the party putting in the most money and setting the price in a round; Pre-IPO = the last private round before listing; reverse merger / backdoor listing = a private company going public by acquiring an already-listed shell.

2. Methodology & data conventions

- Window: Jan 2024 – May 2026. A few highly representative deals that strictly fall in H2 2025 – 2026 (e.g., SoftBank's ABB Robotics acquisition; Skild's $14B round) are included and flagged.
- Scope: equity financings of Asia-domiciled or Asia-capital-led embodied-AI / humanoid companies across bodies, software/foundation models, and core components, plus IPOs / reverse mergers / placements / strategic acquisitions. Asian capital investing in overseas targets (e.g., SoftBank into US-based Skild) is included and flagged.
- FX: converted at roughly USD 1 ≈ RMB 7.1–7.2 ≈ JPY 150 ≈ KRW 1,350, for order-of-magnitude only.
- Confidence tiers: 【Confirmed】 = multiple consistent sources + a clear round; 【Rumored/Unconfirmed】 = single-source or company-unconfirmed; 【Conflicting】 = sources disagree, listed side by side.
- Known limits: many Chinese financial sites block automated fetching (403), so amounts/valuations rely on cross-source summary consistency rather than field-level audit of originals.

3. Overview: Asia's embodied-AI funding landscape & trends

Key takeaways (this review + industry statistics):

1. China is the densest private market in Asia (and the world). Industry stats: Chinese embodied-AI + robotics saw ~77 rounds / ~RMB 20.9B disclosed in 2024, exploding to 160+ rounds / RMB 40B+ in 2025 (~+400% YoY). This review alone catalogues 60+ verifiable headline deals.
2. "Round inflation" is rampant. Leading companies often raise 3–6 rounds in 12–18 months; angel rounds get sliced into "A++++++," and doubling valuations within six months is routine (e.g., Spirit AI crossed RMB 10B in 26 months; AI2Robotics claims 12 rounds in a year).

3. From H2 2025, an "IPO harvest" began. Hong Kong has produced four listings — RoboSense, Horizon Robotics, Dobot, Manycore; Unitree is racing to become the "first humanoid stock" on STAR Market; AgiBot opened an A-share back door by taking control of listed Shangwei New Materials.
4. The rest of Asia follows very different paths: Korea runs on chaebol control stakes (Samsung–Rainbow, LG–Bear, Hyundai–Boston Dynamics) plus government funds — the most systematic; Japan runs on SoftBank "buying the world" (ABB Robotics, $5.375B); Southeast Asia / India have weak native supply, dominated by conglomerate incubation (Vietnam's Vingroup) or industrial-capital control stakes (India's Reliance–Addverb).

Asia embodied-AI funding "heat map" (qualitative, this review's scope):

4. China · Bodies / OEMs / Full-stack players

Note: Galbot, AgiBot, Spirit AI, X Square, AI2Robotics, TARS, RobotEra, Galaxea AI are "full-stack" (building both the body and an in-house embodied foundation model). Because their valuations are driven by "model + body" together, they are listed here; pure software/data companies are in Section 5.

8. Japan

Date	Company	Type	Amount	Valuation	Parties	Business
2025-10-08	SoftBank acquires ABB Robotics	Acquisition (whole unit)	$5.375B	ABB Robotics ~$2.3B 2024 revenue	SoftBank (buyer) / ABB (seller)	SoftBank buys ABB's "Robotics & Discrete Automation"; Physical-AI thesis; pending regulators

2024-10-16	Toyota TRI × Boston Dynamics	R&D partnership (non-funding)	—	—	TRI + Boston Dynamics	Train Atlas with Large Behavior Models

Japan takeaway: high activity, but heavily concentrated in SoftBank's "overseas investment + big M&A" (ABB Robotics, Skild, AutoStore, Agile Robots, Berkshire Grey). Local startups (Mujin, GITAI, Telexistence) are small-to-mid and skew industrial/logistics/space. Telexistence's last big round was its 2023-07 $170M Series B; no new round in-window.

2023-10 (context)	Doosan Robotics (KOSPI IPO)	IPO	~$318M	valuation >$2B	public market	Cobots; 2025 pivoting to "practical humanoid"

Korea takeaway: the most systematic — three chaebols enter via "control + consolidation" (Samsung–Rainbow 35%, LG–Bear 51%, Hyundai–Boston Dynamics), plus the K-Humanoid government fund ($770M). Rainbow Robotics is KOSDAQ-listed; its secondary-market cap reached ~$10B on the Samsung halo.

2025-01	VinMotion (Vingroup)	Vietnam	Incorporation / capitalization	reg. capital ~$39M	Vingroup (with VinAI/VinFast)	Vietnam's first general humanoid developer
ongoing	Fourier	SG (hub) + Malaysia	Regional deployment / research	—	parent in Shanghai, China	SG regional HQ; research with Tan Tock Seng Hospital
2024-2025	Weston Robot	Singapore	Angel (no large round)	undisclosed	Lion City Angel	RaaS; showcased G1 humanoid
2025	Temasek / GIC / EDBI	Singapore	Indirect allocation	not separately disclosed	sovereign funds	Robotics/AI via global portfolios (no confirmed single direct embodied bet)

SE Asia takeaway: weakest native supply; the main story is Chinese firms using it as a go-global springboard (AgiBot×Singtel; Fourier's SG hub) and Vietnam's Vingroup incubating VinMotion in-house. Sovereign-fund single direct bets into embodied AI could not be verified deal-by-deal.

11. India

Date	Company	Type	Amount	Valuation/Stake	Lead/Parties	Business
2024	Reliance acquires Addverb	Control buyout	$132M	54% stake, post ~$270M	Reliance Retail Ventures	Warehouse automation → humanoid + defense; 60k/yr plant in Noida
2025-01-22	Ati Motors	Series B	$20M	~$37M cumulative	Walden Catalyst, NGP Capital	Industrial AMR "Sherpa"; humanoid-inspired version 2025
(recent)	CynLr	Series A	$10M	$15.2M cumulative	Pavestone, Athera	Machine vision + object manipulation
—	Svaya Robotics	Unfunded	no external funding	—	self-funded / DRDO	Cobots + general humanoid, DRDO collaboration

India takeaway: industrial-capital-led, with Reliance–Addverb ($132M/54%) the landmark; the rest are early/mid VC. Most start from industrial/warehouse AMRs; humanoids are still prototypes. India robotics VC was ~$117M in 2024 (vs ~$54M in 2023) — fast growth, small absolute base.

12. Most active investors

Internet/tech giants (CVC): - Alibaba group (Alibaba/Alibaba Cloud/Ant): Unitree, X Square (A+), RobotEra, Noematrix, Dexmal (A+), Galaxea, Linkerhand — most aggressive in the software layer. - JD.com: AgiBot (B+), Spirit AI (Pre-A+), EngineAI (A1), LimX, PaXini, Kepler (indirect). - Tencent: AgiBot (B, first embodied bet), Unitree. - Meituan / Longzhu: X Square (A), Galaxea (A4/A5), TARS. - ByteDance: X Square (A++). Baidu: AI2Robotics (B), Yulu, Dexmal (indirect).

Automakers / industrial capital: Geely Capital (Unitree, RobotEra), BAIC (AgiBot, RobotEra, PaXini), SAIC (AgiBot, Galbot), BYD (AgiBot, PaXini), XPeng's Xinghang (EngineAI), CATL / Puquan (Galbot, EngineAI, Spirit AI, Link-touch), Tuopu (Leju, MagicLab).

National team / chain funds: China Mobile chain fund (Galbot, Inspire, Unitree), National AI Industry Investment Fund ("Big Fund") (Galbot), Shanghai Embodied AI Fund (AgiBot), Yizhuang SOE.

Top financial VCs: Sequoia China (all stages), Hillhouse (AgiBot, TARS, Psi, KunWei), Lanchi (TARS, Psi), Qiming (TARS, Dexmal), Shenzhen Capital, Dachen, Eastern Bell, Hongtai, Junlian, Lightspeed.

Middle-East / overseas sovereign: Prosperity7 (Saudi Aramco — Fourier, Spirit AI, Noematrix), Lei Shi Capital (UAE — LimX), Qatar QIA (Japan's Mujin), Infini Capital (UBTech).

In one line: JD and Alibaba are the most active corporate investors; China Mobile's chain fund and the National AI "Big Fund" are the most active "national-team" leads; Sequoia/Hillhouse have the broadest coverage; Middle-East sovereign capital keeps adding to leaders.

13. Valuation leaderboard (media-cited, unaudited)

Private-market (unlisted) valuation ranking:

Rank	Company	Valuation	Timing	Status
1	Galbot	$3.0B (~RMB 21.3B); reportedly >RMB 20B after Mar-26	Dec-25 / Mar-26	$3.0B confirmed; >RMB 20B reported
2	Galaxea AI	RMB 20B	Apr-26 (B+)	reported
3	AgiBot	RMB 15B	Mar-25 (B)	confirmed
4	Spirit AI / AI2Robotics / PaXini	each ">RMB 10B"	early 2026	reported
5	Unitree	post ~RMB 12.7B (IPO mkt cap ~RMB 42B)	Jun-25 / Mar-26	confirmed
—	BrainCo	>$1.3B (~RMB 9.4B)	Jan-26	reported

Public-market (listed) market caps (FMP, 29–30 May 2026):

Company	Code	Mkt cap (≈USD)
Rainbow Robotics (KR, Samsung-backed)	277810.KQ	~$10B
Horizon Robotics	9660.HK	~$8.5B
UBTech	9880.HK	~$5.6B
RoboSense	2498.HK	~$1.9B

Caveat: private valuations are media-cited and unaudited, and "round inflation" hurts comparability; public caps swing sharply on sentiment (UBTech 52-wk range HK$73.5→161). Valuations already price in heavy future humanoid-volume expectations.

14. Cross-region comparison & assessment

Activity ranking (systematization + deal scale): China >> Korea ≈ Japan > India > SE Asia (native).

Dimension	China	Japan	Korea	SE Asia	India
Main driver	Local-gov't guidance funds + internet/industrial giants + abundant VC	SoftBank "buy the world" M&A	3 chaebols' control stakes + gov't fund	China's springboard + conglomerate incubation	Industrial-capital control + early VC
Signature deal	Galbot $3B; AgiBot→Shangwei; Unitree STAR IPO	SoftBank buys ABB Robotics $5.375B	Samsung → 35% of Rainbow	AgiBot×Singtel; VinMotion	Reliance buys Addverb
Target profile	Dense local OEM unicorns	Industrial/logistics/space	Chaebol control of overseas/local	Sparse native	Warehouse AMR → humanoid
Gov't role	Very strong	Mostly private capital	Strong (K-Humanoid)	Weak	Weak

Core assessment: 1. China is the undisputed home market — dense funding across bodies, software and components; the most local OEM unicorns by count and valuation density — but also the highest round-inflation / valuation-bubble risk. 2. Korea is the most systematic — chaebol vertical integration + government fund, suited to

M&A logic. 3. Japan is "picks-and-shovels + capital going abroad" — it controls the precision-component chokepoint at home (see the companion industry report) while SoftBank buys US/EU assets. 4. SE Asia / India are incremental edge markets — SE Asia as a springboard, India led by industrial capital (Reliance); absolute amounts remain small.

15. Risks & data caveats

1. Amounts/valuations are largely unaudited: Chinese private "nearly RMB X00M" is vague; Galbot's RMB 20B, and the >RMB 10B tags for Spirit/AI2Robotics/Galaxea, are mainly media reports — verify against filings/ITjuzi/PitchBook.
 2. Round inflation: angels sliced into "A++++++"; six-month doublings are common; comparability is poor.
 3. Conflicts listed side by side: e.g., AgiBot→Shangwei stake 63.6% vs 67% (staged-deal lower/upper bound); Galbot's Dec round shown as "$300M/RMB 2.1B + $3.0B/RMB 20B" from different sources for the same round.
 4. Rumored items: AgiBot HK IPO (officially denied); Unitree's "RMB 100B" talk; a single-source $242M TARS interim round (to verify); Telexistence down-round rumor (unconfirmed); 1X's $10B round (not closed).
 5. Out-of-window deals: SoftBank-ABB, Skild $14B, WIRobotics Series B, AgiBot×Singtel partly fall in H2 2025–2026 (flagged ⚠️).
 6. UBTech placement figures are muddled: single vs cumulative vs net proceeds vary across reports — defer to HKEX 9880 filings.
